Client's personal goals:

- 1) They would like to increase their wealth and feel more secure, both financially and professionally.
- 2) Wife is embarking upon new photography career and husband is changing his career. They would like inspiration for their new businesses to become successful and profitable.
- 3) They would like to enhance their marriage relationship.

After discussion with the client, the following Feng Shui solutions are recommended: (All solutions must be activated with Three Part Activation procedure. See addendum.)

Place a water fountain in the front of the house with the water flowing towards the house to enhance wealth and abundance. Also, place a wind chime in front of double entry doors to slow the flow of Qi.

I would also recommend replacing all the dried flower arrangements with live plants. Live plants have a life force; they'll bring more life into your home.

Bathroom in Wealth corner: Need to hang mirror on outside of bathroom door.

Glass door in wealth area; need to hang either a bamboo flute, crystal
or wind chime in front of glass door. Will also need to put red tape on all drains.

Another glass door in wealth area;
need to hang either a bamboo
flute, crystal or wind chime in front of door.

Remove all dried flowers and replace with live plants. Place a plant on each side of fireplace and put a mirror above the fireplace to reflect the water in the spa.

As you can see from this picture, the flow of Qi (life force) runs right through foyer thru the living room and out the windows. Three medium sized crystals
need to be hung in the foyer to disperse Qi
through the rest of the house. Also, the chairs
in the formal living room need to be rearranged so their backs aren't facing the door.

Hang a large crystal from the center light to disperse the flow of Qi into the house and not out the windows.

The headboard of the bed is against a bathroom wall, where a sink is located. The drain of the bathroom sink affects your Qi as you sleep. Purchase full length mirror and attach shiny side toward back of headboard. Also, put red tape around drains in bathroom and all the other drains in the house. This will keep good Qi from being flushed down any drain.

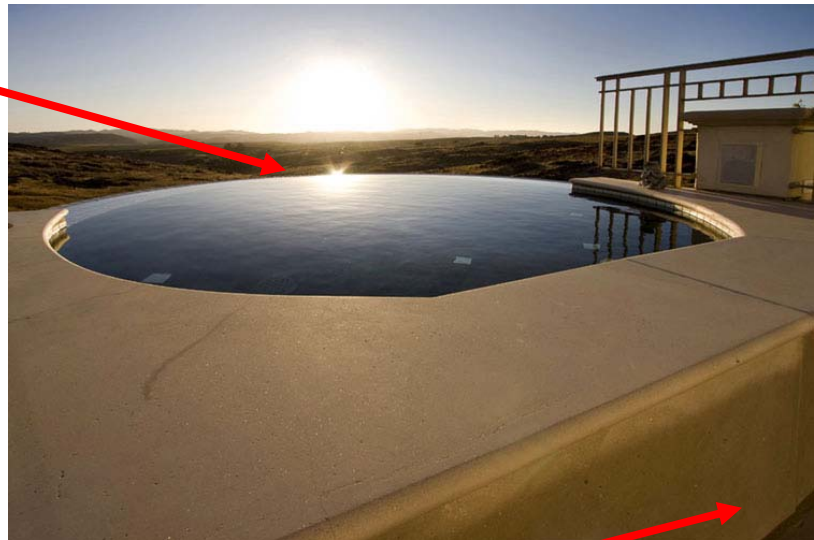

Make sure the bathroom door is closed at night while sleeping.

Also, hang a small crystal on the pull chain of the fan. The blades of the fan affect the Qi.

In the office, this built-in desk was built so that the person sitting there has their back to the door. Place a mirror on wall to reflect door.

The spa on the back deck has a vanishing edge that flows away from the house. This needs to be fixed; either install mirrors at the edge of the spa so the water will reflect back toward the house or add some fountain pumps to pump the water flow toward the house. It is extremely important to fix this immediately. Also, the spa is located in the Fame area, so I would place 9 potted red flowering plants around the base of the spa.

In the marriage corner of your home I would place some pink, red, and/or white flowers in this area to enhance your marriage.

I would also recommend that you perform the feng shui bathroom and drain cures: Preserve the Qi that enters each bathroom by placing a full-length mirror on the outside of each bathroom door. This will keep good Qi from being flushed down any drain.

Also, in the kitchen, place red tape around the drain under the sink and place red tape around any other drains in the house and install with the 3 Secrets Cure to preserve good Qi in the house and prevent it from draining away.

This concludes my report. I want to thank you for your business and if you need any help implementing or obtaining the cures I've recommended, please do not hesitate to call or e-mail me.

Sincerely,
